2. Data and purposes

This consent covers the name, company, email address, and optional phone number that I provide, together with the source page, request identifier, consent revision, and bounded form-protection technical data.

- responding to my request and clarifying my needs;
- arranging a Markiro demonstration;
- sending a transactional confirmation that the request was received;
- preventing automated abuse and protecting the service.

3. Operations, methods, and service providers

I permit collection, recording, organization, accumulation, storage, correction, retrieval, use, necessary transmission to engaged processors, restriction, erasure, and destruction. Processing may be automated and may also be performed without automated means.

The stated purposes may use Russian cloud infrastructure and secret storage, Postbox transactional mail, SmartCaptcha, and the controller's mailbox provider. The processing policy discloses provider categories and roles.

4. Term and withdrawal

Consent remains effective until the stated purposes are achieved, but the business request and related correspondence are retained for no more than one year after the last substantive contact unless another lawful basis requires limited longer processing.

I may withdraw consent by emailing hello@v-b.tech or sending post to the controller's address. Withdrawal does not invalidate processing performed before withdrawal; law or the defense of rights may require limited continued processing.

5. Confirmation

By selecting the required unchecked box and submitting the form, I confirm that I act freely and in my own interest, have read this consent and the processing policy, and understand the purposes, data, operations, and withdrawal procedure.
